Mental Health & Trauma-Informed Care (TIC) Training

PROVIDING THERAUPIC SERVICES & WORKFORCE TRAINING

Drew CDC's Mental Health program provides a system of outpatient therapeutic services to help children, youth, families, and adults realize their goals. Services include Mental Health Services, Targeted Case Management, Medication Support, Crisis Intervention, and Prevention and Early Intervention.

Our Wraparound program, a subdivision of Mental Health Services, helps eligible children/youth realize their mission by addressing underlying needs and strategies with formal and informal supports. Formal supports are comprised of facilitators, therapists, specialists, and parent partners, while informal supports consist of the family members' networks of interpersonal and community relationships. The Child & Family Team (CFT) Matrix is the instrument used to navigate through the four phases of the Wraparound process, covering 12 Life Domains and Safety and Crisis Plans.

Drew CDC is responsible for leading and coordinating the implementation of the Trauma-Informed Care (TIC) component of the Emergency Child Care Bridge Program for Foster Youth and does so in partnership with the Child Care Alliance Los Angeles and the eight Resource and Referral (R&R) agencies across Los Angeles County. Drew CDC uses a "train-the-trainer" model to provide trauma-informed training and coaching to support Bridge staff housed within the eight LA County R&Rs.
